 - 2. The RSRWA board of directors reserves the right to disqualify any entry that does not adhere to the constitution, fair chase, and RSRWA Big Game Competition rules.

3. Adult competition entries will be eligible for a draw of 1 of 10 memberships for the next year, governed by the unique winner selection logic outlined in Rule G3a.
 - o G3a) Membership Draw & Overflow Protocol:
 - Consolidation of Winners: If an individual wins multiple categories, they receive the titles and awards for all categories won, but they are identified as a Single Eligible Candidate and occupy only one spot in the selection pool.
 - Scenario A (10 or Fewer Unique Winners): If there are 10 or fewer unique individual winners after consolidation, every unique winner is automatically granted a membership.
 - Scenario B (11+ Unique Winners / Overflow Protocol): In the event that the number of unique individual category winners exceeds 10, a random draw will occur. Each unique winner is entered into the draw exactly once, regardless of how many categories they won. The first 10 names drawn will be awarded membership. Those not drawn will retain their category winner titles but will not receive membership for the current cycle.
4. Entries in the RSRWA Big Game Competition must be entered by only one person.
5. In the Deer categories, each head may be scored as typical or non-typical. A non-typical head must score 15 points or greater than a typical head to claim the highest score in its class.
6. In a situation where an animal could be scored either typical or non-typical, the hunter has the right to choose how they want the head scored.
7. In the deer competitions for archery, muzzle-loader, and rifle, all entries will be scored as “typical” to win in their respective classes.
8. A prize is awarded to the most even and most uneven deer head in the competition. Deer must have a minimum of three points per side to be eligible.
9. Entries of antlers in velvet will not qualify for the RSRWA Big Game Club Competitions.
10. Entries scored prior to RSRWA scoring night are eligible for awards, provided the head was scored by an official MBGTA scorer. A copy of the original signed score sheet complete with a current and valid hunting license for that species, a completed RSRWA entry form, and a date-stamped picture must be submitted to a director on or before the RSRWA scoring night.
11. Categories for the Big Game Competition are as follows: Elk, Moose, Bear-Rifle, Bear-Archery, Deer-Rifle-Typical, Deer-Archery, Deer-Muzzle-loader, Deer-Non-Typical, and CCBG Caribou.
12. Categories for Bird Competitions are: Canada Goose and Wild Turkey.
13. Nuisance bears shot on special permits are not eligible for RSRWA awards.
14. Only Junior competition entries will receive annual awards/plaques.
15. Junior category includes Bear and Deer: Archery, Muzzle-loader, or Rifle. If this is the highest club score, the entry will automatically be entered and recorded in the Big Game category listed in 19-G11.
16. If there is a Junior entry and no matching Junior award category, then that entry may be entered in the adult Big Game Competitions listed in 19-G11.

H) Fishing Competitions

1. Junior Fishing Category: Walleye, Northern Pike, Channel Catfish, Small-Mouth Bass, Perch.
